

I believe the FCC's, Senator Brownback, and George W. Bush's attempts to thwart Free Speech in America via FCC rules is ridiculous and the most un-American happening since the destruction of the Native American culture. I cannot fathom how this select group of fanatics has gone unchecked while they gain control over the airwaves and seek to manipulate the First Amendment to suit their personal ideals. The bans, fines, and other ludicrousness they intend to invoke are clear representations of their personal beliefs, and do not by any means represent the will of the American people. Should the FCC and Brownback gain anymore footing over the nation, it would truly be Hitler-like, and the nation would be no better off than the Germans of the early 1900's. Do you not hear your country calling out in protest against your insane attempts? Or have any of you even stopped to ask the country - not Bush, not Brownback or any of his posse, not Fox TV, but the real Americans - what they want allowed, disallowed, and fined? I am appalled at these recent events. More so than I will ever be at seeing Janet Jackson's breast on the Super Bowl, and far more than I will EVER be at anything Howard Stern could ever say. If it were up to me - Stern would be president. God knows he could do a better job than the ignoramus we have now. Do not contact me concerning this post. My opinions are firm and no junk mail from you could change them.
